

Business Insight:

TOP PRODUCT CATEGORIES BY REVENUE

Health & Beauty emerged as the highest revenue-generating category, contributing over 1.25 million in sales, followed by Watches & Gifts and Bed Bath Table. The dominance of lifestyle, personal care, and home-related products indicates strong consumer demand in daily-use and gifting segments. These categories represent the platform's core revenue drivers and offer significant opportunities for targeted marketing, inventory expansion, and customer retention strategies.

Business Insight:

LOWEST RATED PRODUCT CATEGORIES

Security & Services recorded the lowest average customer rating at 2.5, indicating severe customer dissatisfaction despite limited order volume. Office Furniture also showed poor customer ratings with a significantly high review count, making it a critical business concern because the category generates substantial sales while underperforming in customer satisfaction. Categories such as Fixed Telephony, Audio, and Fashion products also displayed below-average ratings, suggesting issues related to product quality, delivery delays, damaged shipments, or unmet customer expectations. These low-rated categories represent operational and customer experience risks that could negatively impact long-term retention and brand trust if not addressed.

Business Insight:

DELIVERY DELAY ANALYSIS BY CATEGORY

Office Furniture recorded the highest average delivery time at over 20 days, making it the slowest-delivered category on the platform. Furniture-related categories consistently showed longer delivery durations due to bulky product handling, logistics complexity, and higher transportation requirements. Extended delivery timelines in categories such as Fashion Shoes, Home Appliances, and Garden Tools may contribute directly to lower customer satisfaction and poor review scores observed in previous analysis. The findings highlight operational inefficiencies in large-item and logistics-heavy product segments, indicating a need for supply chain optimization and faster fulfillment processes.

Business Insight:

TOP CATEGORIES WITH REPEAT CUSTOMERS

Bed Bath Table generated the highest number of repeat customers, followed by Furniture Decor, Sports & Leisure, and Health & Beauty categories. These categories demonstrate strong customer retention and recurring purchase behavior, indicating higher customer satisfaction, product utility, and long-term demand stability. Home-related and lifestyle product segments appear to encourage repeat purchasing patterns more effectively than niche categories, making them strategically important for loyalty programs, personalized marketing, and subscription-based sales opportunities.

Business Insight:

PROFITABLE + EFFICIENT PRODUCT CATEGORIES

Health & Beauty emerged as the strongest overall business-performing category, generating the highest revenue while also maintaining strong customer ratings and efficient delivery performance. Categories such as Sports & Leisure, Housewares, Toys, and Perfumery also demonstrated an effective balance between profitability, customer satisfaction, and operational efficiency. These categories represent the platform's most sustainable and scalable business segments because they successfully combine high sales performance with positive customer experience. In contrast, categories with longer delivery durations despite high revenue may still face future customer retention risks if operational delays continue increasing.
